TECHNICAL CONFERENCES – HELPING YOU TO COMPLY

WHAT IS A TECHNICAL CONFERENCE?

These two technical conferences are intended to provide compliance and senior executives with a good foundation and understanding of the essential subjects that are fundamental to proper compliance. These conferences will focus much more on technical detail compared to normal conferences which tend to be high-level.

The subject matter is also approached from the perspective of the professional practitioner rather than industry sector – this is vital for proper understanding of what the rules require and being able to apply the requirements across relevant sectors of financial services. Gaining a proper understanding of the subject matter is obviously vital to ensure that the compliance requirements are properly understood and the first step in ensuring effective compliance.

A special feature of our technical conferences is that the number of delegates will be restricted to a maximum of 30 per conference. The small number should facilitate discussion and interaction with the speakers and other delegates.

The conference venue is the fabulous boutique 4-Star Chesterfield Hotel in London. The cost of attendance includes documentation, refreshments, and three-course lunch.

Fees Per Delegate Per Conference	Fee	VAT	Total
a) For The Compliance Register's Members :	310.00	54.25	£364.25

*These fees include free membership to 30 June 2009 subject to successful membership application. Package "A" is for two delegates at one conference or for one delegate attending two conferences. Package "B" is for three delegates to attend any of the two conferences in this brochure. If you choose Package "B", you will also gain three complimentary seats at The 2008 OSTCaR Awards on 8 December – if you cannot attend "the OstCaRs", you are free to nominate a colleague in your place.
